

Q2 Learning and Sullivan Learning Solutions Announce Strategic Alliance for Social Learning for Small Business

Falls Church, VA. July 13, 2010. Q2 Learning, LLC announced today they have formed a strategic alliance with Sullivan Learning Solutions (SLS) to provide affordable social learning for small- and mid-size businesses. SLS will also be introducing Q2's eCampus technology into European markets.

"We are very excited about this alliance. Smaller companies often face big challenges due to resources and manpower. SLS can provide workable, cost-effective social learning solutions that were previously cost-prohibitive to the small organization," said Dr. Bill Bruck, Principal and Founder of Q2 Learning.

John Sullivan, CEO of Sullivan Learning Solutions, added "At SLS we are great believers in the effectiveness of social learning to drive results. Q2's eCampus technology allows us to enhance e learning courses with assignments, coaching, and on-the-job assignments. It's ability to quickly re-use common solutions with templates, brings the types of learning, previously only available to Fortune 500 customers, to the small business market."
